

Top 5 Reasons to Move to Microsoft Dynamics 365 Business Central

Change Done Right – Every Step of the Way

JOURNEYTEAM

Experiencing business growth can bring about some issues, especially if an organization isn't quite prepared from a technology perspective. Changing a system or an entire business model is not a decision to take lightly.

We here at JourneyTEAM fully understand these situations, having helped over 100 organizations upgrade to and implement Microsoft Dynamics 365 Business Central over the past few years.

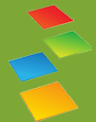

Why Change Now?

These five attributes of Business Central have made all the difference for our customers and are their top reasons for change...

1. Better intercompany features, allowing for multiple entities to work from one source of truth.
2. Streamlined and more powerful manufacturing process features, including a better way to handle reporting by multiple attributes.
3. Easier and more scalable integration to report on multiple dimensions for financial reporting.
4. Ongoing product support and automatic updates that help you scale along with the ebbs and flows of your business.
5. Improved security and data protection from ransomware.
